Market Review

- The PSEi ended September 0.34% lower to close at 5,864.23 as net foreign selling persisted during the month, and reports of downgrades in economic outlook dampened sentiment. Local bond yields ended flat to slightly lower as BSP moves dictated risk sentiment.
- Net foreign selling of USD 306M in September, elevated COVID-19 cases, and the maintenance of current lockdown conditions drove the market lower for the month.
- The Fund is a mix of equities and cash/fixed income securities and follows the composition and performance of the equity and fixed income benchmarks.
